2. Data Protection Act 1998

Interfuse Limited has notified the Data Protection Commissioner under the terms of the Data Protection Act 1998 that information may be obtained about individuals.

3. Information gathered by us

3.1 When you request any of our goods or services we need to know your name, company name, business type, postal address, email address, telephone number and facsimile number. This includes information provided at the time of submitting an enquiry or for applying for a vacancy advertised.

3.2 We gather this information to allow us to process your request and the relevant information is then used by us to communicate with you for a variety of purposes.

3.3 We may on occasions pass on information to third parties whose products and services we believe may be of interest to you, and unless you send us an email to info@interfuseblocks.com stating that you do not wish us to disclose your information to third parties. Under no circumstances is the collected data sold or passed on to third parties for other reasons.

3.4 The information that you provide will enable us to provide further information about our company, products and services to you, and to contact you.

3.5 We may also use aggregated information and statistics for the purposes of monitoring website usage in order to help us to develop our website and our services and we may also provide such aggregated information to third parties. The statistics will not include information that can be used to identify any individual.

4. Information that is automatically logged

When you enter our website, we may use your internet protocol ("IP") address to help diagnose problems with our server, to administer our website and to help identify you. Your IP address may also be used by us to gather broad demographic information and other purposes, such as monitoring visitor frequency.

5. Cookies

You may be aware that there is a technology called "cookies". This is a file that is transferred from the website to the hard drive of your computer. We may use cookies to track your activities on our website. A cookie will not allow a website operator to obtain information of a personal nature that will identify you to us, such as your name and address. We will only be aware of such information if you provide the information to us or you have set the preferences in your browser to provide this information automatically.

6. Distribution of data

6.1 Any information that is gathered from visitors to this website is used by us and (unless you send us an e-mail as mentioned in paragraph 3.3) third parties whose products and services may be of interest to you.

6.2 If our business or any part of our business is sold or integrated with another business your data and information may be disclosed to our advisers and any prospective purchasers and their advisers and may be passed on to the new owners of the business or relevant part of the business who may use such data and information for the various purposes given in this privacy policy.

7. Consent

7.1 By visiting our website, you consent to the use of your information as set out in this privacy statement. We may change our privacy policy at any time. If we change our privacy policy we will post the changes on this website, so that you may be aware of the information we collect and how we use it at all times. We will also contact you should we make any changes so that you may have the opportunity to object to the changes so far as they relate to your data and information.

7.2 Owing to the global nature of the internet infrastructure, there is a possibility that your information may be transferred to countries outside the European Economic Area. By submitting your information to us, you consent to these transfers.

8. Telling you what information we hold about you

If you wish to know what information we hold on you please contact us by email at info@interfuseblocks.com or post addressed to the Data Protection Officer at the address set out in paragraph 1.

9. Removing and correcting information

If you request us to remove your personal information from our database or you wish us to amend or change the information we hold about you on our database, we will remove or amend any such information on your request. Such request should be made by email at info@interfuseblocks.com or letter addressed to the Data Protection Officer at the address set out in paragraph 1.

10. Contact us

If you have any questions about this privacy policy, how we run the website or your dealings with our website, please send an email to us at info@interfuseblocks.com.

11. Applicable law and jurisdiction

The terms of this privacy policy shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of England and Wales and be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Courts of England and Wales.
